The Critical Illness and Trauma Foundation (CIT) is sponsoring one scholarship of up to $500 each year for the Rocky Mountain Rural Trauma Symposium to honor Stuart A. Reynolds, MD. Dr. Reynolds is the “grandfather” of the Rocky Mountain Rural Trauma Symposium and has been an ardent supporter of the Montana Trauma System and ATLS in Montana and nationally. He has steadfastly supported trauma care training programs for every level of provider in the continuum of trauma care. Dr. Reynolds is also a founding Board member of CIT.

As one of the original sponsors of the Rocky Mountain Rural Trauma Symposium, CIT is pleased to be able to support the Rocky Mountain Rural Trauma Symposium with this annual scholarship. The scholarship is designed to support the attendance of one health care provider at any level of the trauma care continuum to the Rocky Mountain Rural Trauma Symposium. The scholarship will be awarded to the applicant who demonstrates the greatest need for support and provides the most persuasive statement of desire to attend.
